NEWSROOM NOTES—Recreation, or Americans at play, is now one of our biggest businesses, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois said today. Figures from government and private sources indicate that the American public is now spending upwards of $40 billion a year on a wide diversity of sports and recreational activities, from the stay-at-home variety to the great outdoors. This sum, which includes many tax dollars, is more than a tenth of the entire consumer spending dollar.

There are few classifications of personal consumption expenditures that match or exceed this total. Only food, shelter and transportation qualify in this respect. For comparative purposes, the nation's entire bill for clothing and shoes, for example, is some $10 billion smaller than the aggregate amount spent on recreational pursuits. And with the automobile industry establishing new records each year, the $22 billion total for sales of automobiles and parts last year was only around half the recreation tab.

Are all of the expenditures for recreation spent on the active sports and games? The answer is no. Much of these expenditures represent the quiet comparative inactive type of diversion — television, curled up with a book at home, or going to the movies. However, a large part falls into the energetic forms of recreation.

Race track attendance now runs to more than 60 million annually and baseball spectators number over 30 million during the season. In all, admissions to spectator amusements add up to $2 billion a year.

Boating, the number one family participation sport, costs its 40 million enthusiasts around $2 billion a year. The more than 30 million fresh and salt water fishermen spend about $3 billion a year. There are 30 million bowlers and 20 million hunters with their outlays placed at a billion dollars a year in each case. Gardening (who said this was recreation?) ranks as a $2 billion a year nerve soother.

Vacationers, who spend an amount that is variously estimated at $20 to $25 billion a year, visit many of the Federal, State and local parks and recreational areas — 234 million acres of such areas in the United States.

While recreation helps the economy and the well being of the person, it also aids the governmental tills, because a part of what is spent represents many tax dollars.

Rochelle Mother Is 'Normal'

OREGON — Mrs. Patricia Carroll, 18, Rochelle, charged with involuntary manslaughter after she admitted beating her 27-day-old daughter to death July 23, is reported by a psychiatrist at the Rockford Psychiatric Clinic to be "normal" and is free after posting $1,000, 10 per cent of her $10,000 bond, Aug. 21.

Mrs. Carroll underwent the psychiatric examination Aug. 4 at the request of Ogle County State's Atty. John Moore and Philip H. Nye Jr., her attorney.

A trial date has not been set for Mrs. Carroll, who told Ogle County authorities that she beat her infant daughter because she would not stop crying.

Mrs. Carroll and her husband, who works in a packing plant at Rochelle, have another child, 15 months old, who is staying with Mrs. Carroll's mother in Fairfield.

MANILA (P) — President Diosdado Macapagal has decided to accept an invitation to pay a state visit to the United States, an informed official source said today.

Macapagal will leave Oct. 3 and spend a week in the United States, the source said.

Thieves Take Cold Cash; Leave Warm Beer

Shown above is the ransacked safe at the Hess Distributing Co., 610 Depot Ave., local beer wholesale firm, after robbers cleaned out the contents sometime early Monday morning or late Sunday night. The thieves entered the building via a back window and pried the safe open in a back office of the warehouse. The safe was moved from an office facing the street to a rear room to avoid detection. City police said that about $300 was taken from the safe but nothing else in the building appeared to be taken. A faulty tear-gas device inside the safe might have deterred the robbers had it worked.

Tense Quiet After Philadelphia Riots

PHILADELPHIA (P) — A tense, uneasy quiet returned to the riot-ravaged Negro section of North Philadelphia today, after a weekend of violence, looting, and pillaging. Sporadic vandalism, window smashing and throwing of rocks at police continued into the early morning hours, but city and police officials said the situation remained under control and the four-square-mile trouble zone was returning to relatively normal operations.

Some 1,500 police saturated the area, which remained under a 24-hour curfew. Mayor James H. J. Tate emphasized that a clear-the-streets order issued Saturday remained in effect. The proclamation, falling under an 1850 law, made it a misdemeanor, with a maximum penalty of two years in prison, for anyone to be on the streets without legitimate business.

Cecil Moore, head of the Philadelphia chapter of the NAACP, said he felt the mayor's proclamation had become unenforceable because of the stifling-hot weather.

"If these people stay in their homes, they will roast to death," said Moore. Very few people were out in the streets before dawn, however, and Tate said his proclamation would remain in force "another week or 10 days."

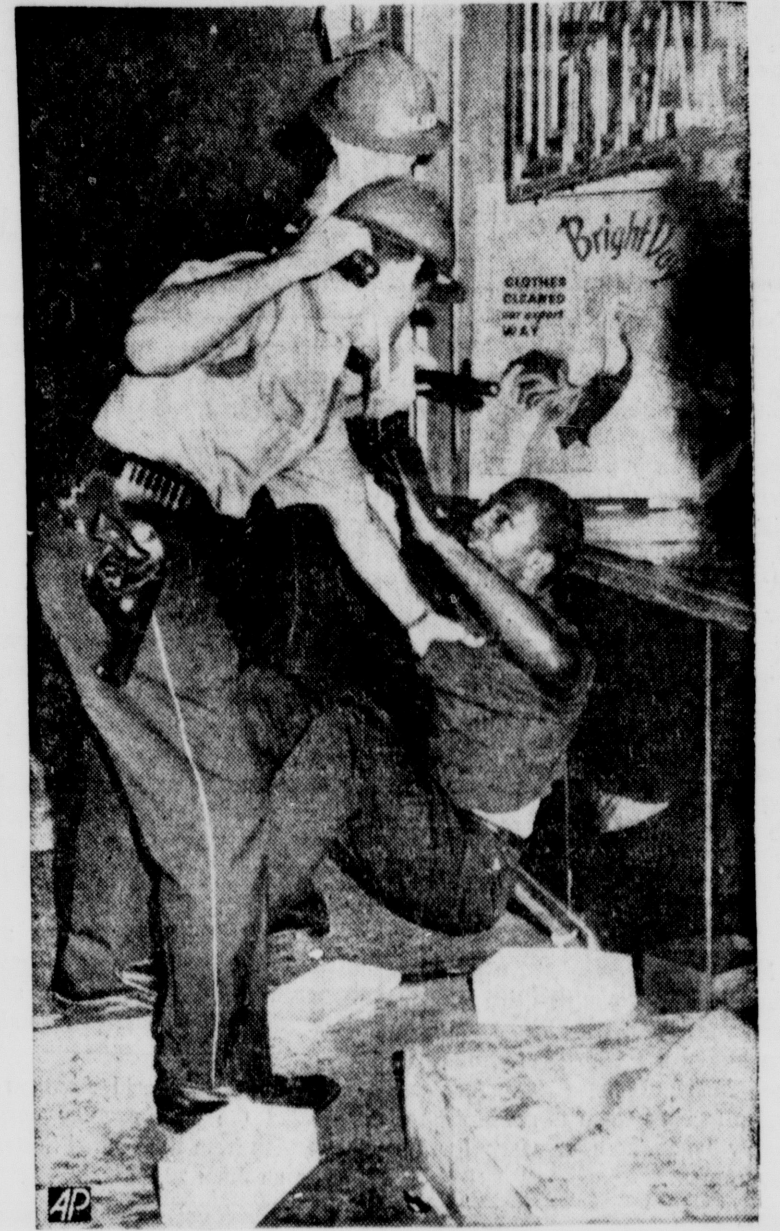

"There are still isolated and sporadic criminal acts," he added. Police arrested 38 alleged looters between midnight and dawn, boosting the over-all total to nearly 400.

Tate, in a progress statement late Sunday night, reported that 225 stores had been looted and more than 350 persons arrested for various violations. The injured totaled 247, including 66 policemen. Almost all of the injuries were minor and there were no fatalities.

One shooting was reported. Police said Robert Green, a 21-year-old Negro was wounded Saturday night when he pulled a knife on a patrolman who was chasing persons throwing cans at a patrol car. Tate estimated "several millions of dollars" in damages and other

Congress Resumes Action On Pre-Convention Issues

WASHINGTON (P) — Congress returns today for another try at settling the controversies that prevented its adjournment in advance of the Democratic National Convention.

Both the House and the Senate scheduled sessions ending a convention week recess, but House leaders planned little business before Tuesday.

The Senate faced up to a renewed fight over health care for the elderly under the Social Security program. President Johnson's backing for this program could make it one of several stumbling blocks in the path of an early adjournment.

Another is an attempt by some members of Congress to halt or at least delay the reapportionment of state legislatures ordered by the Supreme Court and subordinate tribunals. That battle was under way when Congress recessed Aug. 21 for the Democratic convention.

Pending in the Senate is a House-passed bill which would increase and expand present Social Security benefits and increase the tax levies which support the nationwide program.

To this, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and his top assistant, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., now his party's vice-presidential candidate, hope to tack on the elderly health benefits.

This could cause lengthy debate and even if favored by a Senate majority later concurrence by the House would be required. The plan is opposed by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee which handles Social Security legislation.

This controversy is temporarily replacing another floor battle which had tied up the Senate for 10 days prior to the convention recess.

That is the effort of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., the minority leader, to delay the court-ordered reapportionment of state legislature.

Nasser Pledges Arab Support for Makarios

NICOSIA, Cyprus (P) — President Makarios won a pledge of support today from the United Arab Republic in his dispute with Turkish Cypriots on troubled Cyprus as anti-American demonstrations continued in Turkey.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser also warned against outside interference in the island's affairs, said a joint communique issued in Alexandria at the conclusion of talks between Nasser and Makarios.

Nasser did not specifically pledge military support, however.

Nasser's pledge to Makarios came on the heels of renewed demonstrations in Turkey's key cities.

The United Arab Republic thus followed the lead of Greece and the Soviet Union in promising help if Cyprus were invaded by Turkey.

"The U.A.R. is prepared to provide Cyprus with every possible support for the sake of strengthening the efforts of the Cypriot people in their struggle to safeguard the unity of their island," the communique said.

"The two sides agreed that foreign military bases are a threat to international peace," it added.

Nasser is known to be opposed to the presence of Western military bases in the eastern Mediterranean.

Britain retains two military bases on Cyprus under the 1960 treaty of independence. A British base on Cyprus was used as a staging area for the British-French attack on Egypt during the 1956 Suez crisis. Reliable sources said Makarios and Nasser also discussed a possible shipment of Soviet arms to Cyprus via Egypt.

Before departing for Cyprus, Makarios told a news conference Nasser had promised him "all possible assistance to meet the danger of any new aggression."

The people of Cyprus should decide on enosis—union with Greece—but "under the condition that no foreign bases should be located on Cyprus," he said.

Makarios said Turkish Cypriots who compose about 20 per cent of the island's population "will not be allowed a veto power." It was Makarios' attempt to end the Turkish minority's veto on major legislation that began the Cyprus civil war last December.

The Greek Cypriot leader, who flew to Alexandria Saturday to confer with U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser, said Sunday that Nasser "reassured me of his support in several ways."

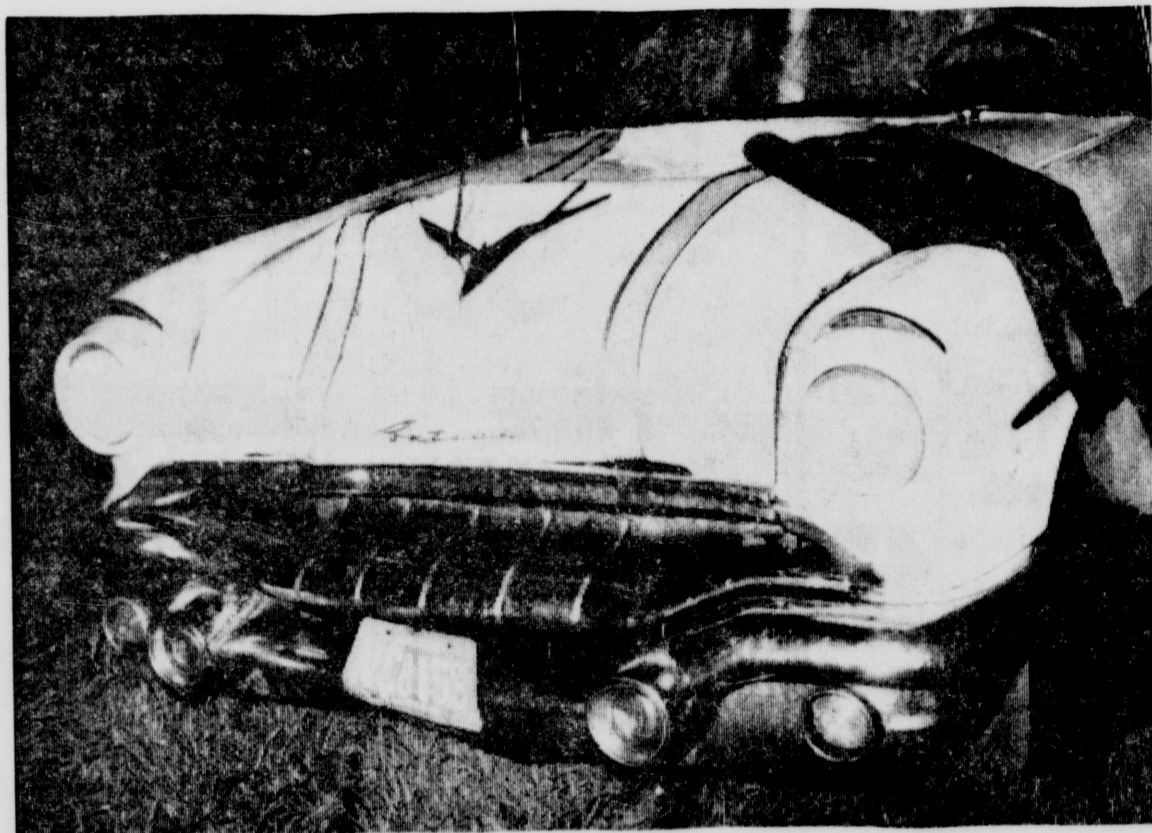

In an address in the Greek Orthodox cathedral in Alexandria Makarios, archbishop of Cyprus, reaffirmed "our determination to carry on our struggle to the end. We won't surrender."

"We believe that with people who have the strength to fight, we will win in the end and live free and united with Greece."

In other developments Sunday, angry Turks staged anti-Greek and anti-U.S. demonstrations for the fourth successive day while the United Nations command in Nicosia charged that Turkish and Greek flights over Cyprus had heightened tensions.

Some 2,000 to 3,000 Turks marched toward Greek and U.S. embassies in Anara, the Turkish capital, but police stopped them with barricades. In the Aegean port of Izmir, firemen used high-pressure hoses to drive back 150 persons attempting to demonstrate at the International Trade Fair.

Dented Metal Testifies to Force of Impact

Shown above is the car which struck and killed a rural Dixon man early Sunday morning, Ivan D. Smith, 30, was dead on arrival at KSB Hospital where he was taken in an Allen ambulance. Floyd Johns, 18, rural Dixon, driver of the car, told officers he didn't see the man until he was almost upon him. No charges have been filed by the Lee County Sheriff's department.

Rural Dixon Man Is Killed In Car-Pedestrian Mishap

A car-pedestrian accident early Sunday morning snuffed out the life of a 30-year-old Dixon father of three on old Alt. 30 near the Brown Shingle restaurant.

According to the reports of the Lee County Sheriff's office, Ivan D. Smith, 30, rural Dixon, was apparently walking in the roadway when he was struck by a car driven by Floyd Johns, 18, rural Dixon about 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

Johns told officers that he was driving home at about 30-miles-per-hour and that he didn't see Smith until he was upon him. The dead man was struck by the right front of the car, thrown onto the hood of the vehicle and his head struck the windshield.

A Lee County Coroner's jury yesterday afternoon ruled the death was accidental. Coroner Robert Preston said Smith died of a fractured skull.

Two witnesses to the accident told the investigating officers that they were traveling in the opposite direction to the mishap and the headlights of their car did not pick up Smith walking on the road. They said had Smith been walking on their side of the road, they probably would have hit him also.

No charges were filed against Johns although the sheriff's department is still conducting an investigation.

Ivan D. Smith was born Jan. 26, 1934 at Rochelle, the son of Carl C. and Addie Brotherton Smith. He was married to Barbara Bovey in Dixon March 15, 1952.

He was preceded in death by his father.

He is survived by his wife; his mother; three sons, Mike, Doug and Steve, all at home; seven brothers, William A., Casey and Carl Lee, all of Franklin Grove; James and Mac, both of Dixon; Robert E., West Palm Beach, Fla.; and Andrew, Lakewood, Fla.;

Congo Army Recaptures Albertville

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (P) — Premier Moise Tshombe says his army has recaptured the strategic city of Albertville in the eastern Congo, but Communist-backed rebels are reported on the march again toward Bukavu.

Tshombe personally announced the government victory over Radio Leopoldville Sunday. He said the rebels left behind their weapons in the flight from the city. There was no confirmation from other sources. Tshombe said the rebels still held Albertville Airport, 12 miles from the city.

A spearhead of white mercenaries approached the airport last Thursday but were driven off by machine-gun fire. Five were wounded.

Reports reaching Elisabethville today said a British major at the head of a volunteer European unit and Congolese army units took Albertville in a pincer action.

The reports said a team of military advisers was flying to Albertville to determine the fate of Europeans who had been held as hostages by the rebels.

Tshombe said his troops freed 28 Europeans who had been held hostage. He gave no indication of the fate of about 100 other whites in the city.

Tshombe hopes the recapture of Albertville will give the demoralized Congolese army a psychological boost in its attempt to beat back rebel forces in the northeast Congo. He recently began recruiting white mercenaries, including some veterans of his Katanga secession, after the Congolese army suffered a string of reverses.

Albertville, the main Congolese city on the western shore of Lake Tanganyika, fell under control of rebel leader Gaston Soumialot in June.

Tshombe's latest announcement followed an army report that a strong rebel force was marching on Bukavu, on the eastern Congo border 225 miles north of Albertville.

More Demonstrations Threatened in Saigon

SAIGON, Viet Nam (P) — A student leader today threatened new mass demonstrations if the ruling triumvirate names men to the promised National Assembly who are unacceptable to the students.

Ton That Tue, a member of the newly formed Leadership Council of Saigon students, told a news conference such demonstrations would be organized only as a last resort.

Le Dinh Dieu Cam, a vice president in the new student organization, said students considered the triumvirate created last week unstable but added that the students, for the sake of "solidarity of the people, will support the government for two months. After that our attitude will depend on the situation." The triumvirate is supposed to appoint a representative National Assembly within two months. The assembly in turn is supposed to appoint a new chief of state.

Dieu condemned the government for last week's rioting in Viet Nam which he said cost at least 20 lives. He said it was the duty of the government to protect lives and property.

The government has warned that any further violence in the streets will be met with force. It also is pressing a search for Communists it accuses of fomenting Buddhist-Roman Catholic rioting.

The government said 449 persons, including some Communists, have been rounded up in Saigon so far.

An army announcement said troops would shoot at demonstrators who refuse to obey orders. For a time last week soldiers watched with folded arms while Catholic and Buddhist youths battled in the streets with machetes, bricks and other weapons.

Calm has been restored in Saigon. A funeral procession of 50,000 Catholics passed through a Buddhist section without incident, Sunday as the bodies of six Catholics killed Friday were borne to their graves.

Five battalions of troops stood guard on back streets. Others lined the route to the cemetery.

Catholic priests called the victims martyrs during an hour-long Mass. A Buddhist monk attended as representative of the Buddhist Association in a display of unity.

Despite the surface calm in Saigon, a curfew remained in effect today. Schools were to reopen Thursday. The appointment of Dr. Nguyen Xuan Oanh, 43, as acting premier gave a semblance of stability to the government. Whether the Harvard-educated economist would remain at the helm remained uncertain.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor flew Sunday to the mountain resort of Dalat, 140 miles northeast of Saigon, to confer with ailing Premier Nguyen Khanh.

Barry Winds Up Vacation Today

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (P) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater winds up a week-long floating vacation today after staking out foreign policy as a key target in his campaign against President Johnson.

Goldwater and his wife were due to cruise back to Newport Beach aboard their borrowed motor yacht, the Sundance. They have been cruising Southern California's coastal waters since last Tuesday. Goldwater said it would be his last respite before the Nov. 3 election.

The Arizona senator had one business session. He talked strategy Sunday with campaign director Denison Kitchell.

Politically, Goldwater has been silent most of the time, often unavailable even to his staff. Twice, however, he has fired ship-to-shore salvos at President Johnson's foreign policy.

He said the speech with which Johnson accepted the Democratic presidential nomination last Thursday "was a clear withdrawal from leadership in international affairs."

He called it an "isolationist acceptance speech." Goldwater demanded that the President tell the nation "just how deeply we have been involved in the runaway rioting and governmental musical chairs going on in South Viet Nam."

Most of Goldwater's hours afloat have been spent in relaxation. With four guests — Mr. and Mrs. Bert Holloway of Burbank, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. John Martini of Los Angeles — the Goldwaters have fished, engaged in some seagoing target practice with shotguns and pistols and watched slides of the Republican National Convention.

He formally launches his race against Johnson at Prescott, Ariz., on Thursday.

The monthly luncheon of the Woman's Association of the First Presbyterian Church will be held at noon Thursday. The business meeting will follow and the program will be presented by Mrs. I. M. Western.

CROWDED HARBOR

Hong Kong's crowded harbor holds some 138,000 people who live on sampans and junks. They long have been considered a group apart. Known as the Tanka, Chinese law for centuries forbade them to settle ashore, marry landowners or work for the government.

Lee R. Brown, 29, was charged by the FBI in April with embezzling $15,000 after auditors reported $972,371 in discrepancies at Fairfield National Bank.

Johnson's Views-1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following are the views of President Johnson on a variety of issues, as expressed in speeches, magazine articles, news conferences and other public remarks and messages:

AGRICULTURE

In a nationwide television broadcast April 24, 1956, speaking in reply to a speech by President Dwight D. Eisenhower on his veto of a Democratic farm bill, Senate Majority Leader Johnson said:

"Since 1952, wages have gone up; corporate dividends have gone up; the entire national income has gone up. But the income of the farmer has gone down 26 per cent.

"The worker who is making refrigerator and television sets will sooner or later be out of work if there is no one to buy refrigerators and television sets. But if the farmer can't make a living, the farmer can't buy these things. If he can't buy them, that cuts the market down. And that means workers will be thrown out of jobs.

"The farmer's income must be bolstered, not only for the farmer's sake, but for your sake. Otherwise we may spin into another depression."

In a message to congress on Agriculture, Jan. 31, 1964, Johnson said: "The agricultural commodity programs developed during the past 30 years have served us well. They are now an indispensable bulwark of our agricultural economy. Without them our food supply would be much less secure than it is today.

"But they are in need of improvement. New conditions arising from the technological revolution in agriculture present a special challenge—a challenge based upon the problems of abundance rather than scarcity.

"We must also look beyond agriculture to rural America as a whole. Fifty-five million Americans live in rural areas. Too many of them have not had an opportunity to acquire the education, skills and earning power which their talents warrant. For too many of them the rural environment has proved a hindrance to a full life, rather than the advantage it rightly can be. We have made great progress in recent years — but we can and must do better."

CIVIL RIGHTS

On March 9, 1949, speaking of a proposal by President Harry S. Truman for a civil rights law, Sen. Johnson told the Senate:

"This civil rights question brings into play all those strong and evil forces of racial prejudice. Perhaps no prejudice is so contagious or so dangerous as the unreasoning prejudice against men because of their birth, the color of their skin, or their ancestral background. Racial prejudice is dangerous because it is a disease of the majority, endangering minority groups.

"When we of the South arise here to speak against the civil rights proposals, we are not speaking against the Negro race. We are not attempting to keep alive the old flames of hatred and bigotry. We are, instead, trying to prevent those flames from being rekindled. We are trying to tell the rest of the nation that this is not the way to accomplish what so many want to do for the Negro."

In a speech at San Angelo, Tex., Dec. 12, 1958, Johnson said he was opposed to forced integration, but he added:

"We're a little late in our section in recognizing that all men are created equal. I wish the hotheads on both sides would give us a chance to evolve a solution to this problem."

In explaining his vote for the 1957 civil rights bill, Johnson said, "I voted for the civil rights bill because I think everyone ought to have the right to vote, whether he's white or brown or black."

In early 1959, Senate Majority Leader Johnson came up with his own civil rights proposals, including a provision for a Community Relations Service. He explained this in a Texas radio speech, Feb. 8, 1959:

"Basically, the duty of the Community Relations Service would be to provide conciliation assistance where conflicts regarding constitutional rights are disrupting or threatening to disrupt peaceful relations in the community."

As vice president, in a speech at Wayne State University, Mich., Jan.

6, 1963, Johnson discussed the Civil War and said:

"Today, as then, we are engaged in a great struggle. We too hear counsel urging restraint and urging delay. We too are counseled that for the government of the United States to concern itself with the equality of its citizens invites the risk of impairing the chance for success in our struggle to uphold the cause of freedom in the world.

"The counsel of delay is not the counsel of courage. A government conceived and dedicated to the purpose that all men are born free and equal cannot pervert its mission by rephrasing the purpose to suggest that men shall be free today—but shall be equal a little later."

On Nov. 27, 1963, in his first speech as President to a joint session of Congress, Johnson said:

"No memorial oration or eulogy could more eloquently honor President Kennedy's memory than the earliest possible passage of the civil rights bill for which he fought so long. We have talked long enough in this country about equal rights. We have talked for 100 years or more. It is time now to write the next chapter, and to write it in the books of law."

On July 2, as he signed the civil rights bill, Johnson said:

"Americans of every race and color have worked to build a nation of widening opportunities. Now our generation of Americans has been called on to continue the unending search for justice within our borders."

On July 28, 1964, in a speech to a group of educators at the White House, Johnson said:

"We must and shall maintain respect for law and order in America, but democracy never has and never will solve its problems at the end of a billy club. Our land is young, our strength is great, our course is far from run, yet there is discontent among our people reaching through our whole society."

City Police Probe Two Burglaries

Two burglaries which took place during the weekend are keeping the Dixon Police Department busy looking for clues.

On page 1 of today's Telegraph, a picture and story of the break-in at the Hess Distributing Co. is told and in addition to that robbery, the office of the Rockford Life Insurance Co., 609 W. Third St., was also hit by unknown thieves.

According to reports, a back door of the firm was apparently left open when the business closed for the weekend.

Robbers entered the building and rifled cash drawers and made off with about $55.

No clues to the culprits have been located and the police are continuing their investigation.

Gas Station Employee Is Charged in Bludgeoning

WAUKEGAN, (AP) — Police have charged an 18-year-old gas station employee with murder in the bludgeoning slaying of Miss Joyce Obenauf.

Lake County Sheriff Charles E. Larson identified the youth as William Johnson of Grayslake. He was arrested Sunday.

Larson said the youth admitted the slaying and was held without bond.

The 20-year-old secretary was found Friday, her skull smashed with a heavy instrument. Her body was discovered near her parked car along a road about two miles from her home.

Johnson said he passed Miss Obenauf's car as she drove home early Friday morning, the sheriff said. Larson said Johnson gave the following account of what happened:

The girl honked her horn as Johnson passed her car, and he thought she wanted him to stop.

Johnson got out of the car and asked if anything was wrong. He said she replied "Don't you want to talk to me?"

When he replied that he didn't, she said "something is wrong with my car."

Johnson said he went back to his car and brought a flashlight and a lug wrench. He said the girl kept "yacking."

He said he told her to shut up and then hit her in the face with the flashlight when she did not stop talking.

Johnson said she locked herself in the car, but kept shouting. He broke the window glass with the lug wrench and pulled her from the car, he said.

"I don't know what happened. I kept hitting her," he said.

The sheriff reported that blood was found on the trunk of Johnson's car.

The arrest of Johnson came after an unidentified youth told sheriff's police he had stopped early Friday morning by Johnson's and Miss Obenauf's cars, Larson said.

The youth said Johnson was standing by the girl's car and told him everything was all right, Larson said.

The youth told the incident to his father Sunday, who advised him to go to the sheriff's office.

News in Brief

Negroes Enter Biloxi Schools

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — This tourist-conscious Gulf Coast city hopes for calm and quiet today as Negroes begin classes with whites for the first public school desegregation in Mississippi below the college level.

The state is the last in the nation to integrate its elementary and high schools under the historic U.S. Supreme Court decision of slightly more than 10 years ago.

Sixteen Negro first graders are enrolled in four formerly all-white schools.

The registration for the Biloxi school system took place some two weeks ago without incident.

School Supt. R. D. Brown said he anticipated no trouble with the start of classroom work. Any outbreak inevitably would affect tourism, a major industry here.

Biloxi has been relatively free of the racial troubles that have happened elsewhere in Mississippi this summer.

Cleo Is Grudgingly Expiring

By The Associated Press

Tropical storm Cleo grudgingly gasped expiring winds today, but spewed heavy rains over sections of the western Carolinas, Maryland and the Virginias.

Roanoke, Va., got 1 1/2 inches; Morgantown, W. Va., received more than 1 inch; Asheville, N.C., got nearly 4 inches in 24 hours and Winston-Salem, N.C., nearly 3 inches.

The rains sent rivers and streams beyond their banks throughout the area.

After spreading many millions of dollars in damages further south, Cleo spawned two tornadoes at Laurinburg, N.C., within 13 hours. The first one Saturday tore through a three-mile path, injured two persons and caused an estimated $750,000 damages. Sunday, the second twister damaged some roofs outside the town.

Nearly three inches of rain fell over Cape Hatteras, N.C., Sunday.

Sgt. Alvin York Is Failing

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The doughboy hero of World War I, Sgt. Alvin York, appeared to be losing ground today in his long battle with ill health.

His condition was listed in a series of medical reports from Veterans Hospital throughout the night as first critical, then grave and early today as very grave. The wife, son and daughter of the 76-year-old Medal of Honor winner were called to his bedside Sunday night.

York was brought to the hospital Saturday from his home at Pall Mall, Tenn., a town in the hills 140 miles northeast of here. He is suffering from an acute urinary infection.

This is the 11th time in two years that the old soldier has been hospitalized. He has been bed-ridden for many years.

A hospital spokesman said Sunday that York now responds very slowly to medications.

Houston Epidemic Near Peak

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Health officials hope by Wednesday or Thursday to be able to interpret trends and establish how long this city's sleeping sickness epidemic peak might last.

Twenty new suspected cases of encephalitis were reported Sunday, bringing to 413 the number of suspected sufferers of the disease. Thus far, 19 persons may have died.

of the St. Louis encephalitis virus, but only three deaths have been definitely attributed to the disease through laboratory analysis.

Dr. C. A. Pigford, city health officer, said Sunday the epidemic was either nearing or at its peak.

Meanwhile, day-and-night insecticide spraying continued in efforts to kill the disease-carrying culex mosquitoes.

Another 'Miss U.S.' Crowned

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — This city's version of 1964's "Miss United States" is a 19-year-old blonde from the Chicago suburb of South Holland, Ill.

Miss Donna Rae Wood was awarded the title Sunday night at the end of the week-long, locally-promoted affair.

Unlike some similar contests, the "Miss United States" title will not take Miss Wood to further competition.

The winner is 5-5, weighs 110 pounds and carries other measurements of 34-22-34.

GOP To Renominate Keating

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Republicans meet today in a super-charged political atmosphere to renominate Sen. Kenneth B. Keating and cheer him into battle against U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The GOP was more optimistic about Keating's chances of withstanding the challenge by Kennedy because of Clare Boothe Luce's decision Sunday not to run as a third-party candidate.

Republican leaders had feared she would have drawn a substantial number of votes from Keating, who won election six years ago by 133,000 votes.

Mrs. Luce said she withdrew in a spirit of Republican unity.

Her decision eliminated a threat by the state Republican organization to withdraw support from the national ticket of Sen. Barry Goldwater and Rep. William E. Miller.

Red Chinese Charge Meet 'Great Split'

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China has announced officially it will boycott a Soviet-sponsored conference to plan a world Communist meeting.

It says the day such a meeting is held "will go down in history as the day of the great split in the international Communist movement."

Peking accused the Soviet Union of siding with the United States in the recent Gulf of Tonkin crisis "by actively supporting the U.S. attempt to intervene in Viet Nam through the United Nations."

Red China's charge was contained in a letter dated Aug. 30 in which the Central Committee of the Chinese Communist party turned down a Soviet invitation to a scheduled Dec. 15 planning conference.

The official New China News Agency broadcast the reply. Peking was one of 25 Communist parties invited to lay the groundwork for a meeting of 81 Communist parties next summer.

Red China also accused the United States of opening up a new "special warfare" theater in Africa. China has made Africa one of its major spheres of activity.

The broadcast said Peking told Moscow:

"We will never take part in any international meeting or any preparatory meeting for it, which you call for the purpose of splitting the international Communist movement."

Foam Laminated Fabrics Are In Fall Fashion Spotlight

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEW YORK — (NEA) — There has been a lot of talk in the fashion world about "two-face fabrics," "bonded foam fabrics," "sandwich laminates," and so forth. Call them what you will, they all add up to fashion with function for the consumer.

No matter what name they go by in the trade, foam laminated fabrics, according to the major producers of urethane foam for apparel use, are the result of a process whereby two fabrics, one a face fabric, the other a liner, are joined by a very thin layer of foam. Putting the two fabrics together in this way gives the finished product drapability and extensive wrinkle-resistance. And in the case of mohair and other open-weave fabrics so popular for fall, this process provides stabilization.

Although once used mainly in sportswear and outerwear because they provided warmth without weight, laminates this fall are being used in nearly every fashion category—even in elegant metallic knits for evening wear.

Sportswear manufacturers on the lookout for comfort use foam laminates for slacks that won't itch, skirts that won't wrinkle and warmth without weight in skiwear.

Knitwear houses find that foam lamination helps fine knits to wear like old-fashioned denim and products sensitive skin from irritation by ribbon knit and metallic knit evening gowns.

And if you have had to forego beautiful wool fashions because of an allergy from direct contact, these new laminates can open up a whole new world of fashion to you.

Decorating Hints For Entrance Hall

Postage-stamp-size entrance halls pose a decorating problem that baffles many housewives. Nothing is going to turn a small hall into a big ballroom, but professional interior decorators have tips for creating an illusion of space where there is little of it.

The color of the walls in the entrance way is the most important factor. They should be painted in a very light color, such as a pastel shade of the color in the adjoining room, or papered in a white or very light paper.

Next, look at the floor. It too should be very light. An entrance foyer floor that can be dramatic in its welcome is a checkerboard pattern of solid black and white alternating tiles. In a very tiny entrance way, solid white tile will brighten and enlarge the area.

Now, to add interest to the walls,

Schedule Meeting

hang a narrow chest with a bright picture over it on the wall you want to serve as the center of attention. Keep an arrangement of flowers on the chest, with the top of the arrangement falling just below the picture itself but covering a part of the bottom edge of the frame. The colors in the flowers should pick up the colors of the picture to give a unified look to the arrangement.

If there is not enough room to hang a chest on the wall, use a narrow shelf with a mirror over it. Arrange a bouquet of flowers on the shelf and in front of the mirror, to add depth to both the room and to your flowers.

Where there are windows in the hall or a skylight overhead, place a large green foliage plant on the floor to provide a decorative highlight.

FURNITURE ON WHEELS

FURNITURE ON WHEELS not only looks smart, adds touches of brightness and a degree of elegance, but is also wonderfully functional.

We have had a number of pieces on wheels for many years, such as portable serving units that can be such a boon wheeling foods from kitchen to dining areas. Television sets on wheeled stands were also obviously functional, allowing the set to be turned easily for convenient viewing.

Casters are not really new, either, on anything from beds to sofas. What is new is making a decorative point of them. Big chairs and sofas seem to gain a touch of elegance on big brass casters, bright or satin finished.

The great advantage of such casters for large pieces is that they become so easy to move around, making regular cleaning under them a breeze. Chairs that can be readily moved are ideal for television, conversation, intimate party grouping. And those bright metal accents can complement other bright touches in your decorating scheme.

Whenever any innovation makes living easier and lovelier, you can be sure you'll find it in our showroom displays, from handsome furniture on casters to glide-away serving bars. Come in—for the best in furnishings!

Go Forward to What?

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

If the Republicans cannot beat the Democrats in November, they have no one to blame but themselves.

On the day the Kennedy-Johnson Administration took over, the Bay of Pigs had not occurred. This incredible debacle alone, with its multiple consequences, should be enough to defeat any administration in the history of the United States. Nor has the catastrophe ever been redeemed. History's account of the effects will mark the responsible men forever. Yet the best offered, and still offered, is: "See no Cuba, hear no Cuba, speak no Cuba."

The Berlin Wall had not been built. Then when Khrushchev built the wall, scolding our warnings, we did not knock it down.

The giveaway of Laos had not occurred, giving the Reds their sanctuary on the flank of South Viet Nam. And to this day no military man alive knows how to contain the Communists in South Viet Nam so long as they have that sanctuary in Laos. Accordingly, in South Viet Nam armed Americans die one by one—quietly, tragically, unknowingly, obediently. For what?

There were no Soviet missiles in Cuba. But all this encouraged the Kremlin to do what the Administration claimed the Soviet would not do and had not done. Surprise, surprise! Then essential "on site" inspection demanded in the "confrontation" was abandoned.

The Administration still has no evidence that all missiles have been removed. But this much we do know: Soviet troops remain 90 miles off our shores two years after the President of the United States told the world they must leave. And finally, full circle, we end up with the great U.S. Navy and Air Force not blockading Castro, but, instead, they protect the bearded tyrant and his Sino-Soviet masters against intrusion. No change under President Johnson.

Respect for the United States is our first line of defense. Yet Zanzibar assassin Abdulla Kassim Hanga, fresh from Moscow's Patrice Lumumba University, can march the U.S. consul to the dock with a gun at his head. President Johnson sends him back, hat in hand, all forgiven. Castro-trained thugs attack U.S. soldiers in the Canal Zone. Our dead are quietly returned to America. Puny Ghanaian rodent Kwame Nkrumah insults and expels our helpless teachers; Americans flee Cyprus, for our Embassy is bombed while the Sixth Fleet stands by unaiding; Americans flee Haiti, Honduras, Cambodia, East Africa, West Africa and heaven knows where, while—at the rate of one a month—American embassies, consulates and agencies are attacked, burned or looted by petty tyrants wherever they please.

John Kennedy rose to make his opening statement, urging its passage as "a bipartisan bill on a non-partisan subject... a sound basis for obtaining effective labor reform legislation this year."

Then commenced debates lasting until April 25, when Goldwater, who had led the attack on its inadequacies, claimed the floor. "The bill, as now developed by this body in terms of its effect on evil conditions it professes to cure, is like a flea bite to a bull elephant," he said. "It not only omits provisions for the slightest additional control of the flagrant evils of secondary boycott, but in many of its provisions it does not accomplish what it gives the appearance of seeking to do... the end result... will be to mislead the American public into the false belief that adequate measures have been adopted to cope with the evils they abhor."

"... I do not choose to be a party to this deception. I shall vote against the bill," Goldwater declared.

The presiding officer called for the question—shall it pass? From Aiken of Vermont to Young of Ohio the responses were recorded: 90 yeas; one nay—Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"I don't wanna go to school!" Mother, don't believe it when your child says this. Most normal children like school and would be unhappy and bored without it.

A few, however, develop a negative attitude and make quite a fuss about school. They may even get headaches or vomit when the time comes to leave the house. This is not the same as pretending illness to get out of going to school occasionally but is rather a type of fear or anxiety reaction.

The possible causes include fear of being bullied by classmates, fear of failure in the performance of daily assignments or, in some older children a general belligerence associated with the onset of puberty.

In many children, however, especially those in the lower grades, the cause is "smother love" or an over-protective attitude on the part of the mother. Some mothers just can't bear to see their little darlings grow up.

They urge their child to be off to school, but secretly hope the child will refuse to leave her. A child is quick to sense the mother's emotional conflict. Although he cannot put it into words he gets the message.

In the end, the mother becomes terrified by her "unruly" child's complete defiance of her and the child becomes terrified at being cast adrift, as it were, in a world where the adults he depends on show no authority and refuse him the firm guidance he knows he needs.

When firmness fails, giving the child a mild tranquilizer in the morning for a day or two may solve the problem. If this doesn't work both the mother and child may need a psychiatric study. But frequently the mere suggestion by the family physician that such a course is necessary is enough to snap a parent into getting a firmer grip on the situation.

—Our son was operated on at the age of 3 months for cranial synostosis. What caused this? Can anything be done for it? If we have another child would he have the same condition?

A—Your son had a premature closing of the soft spot in his skull. This is caused by some fault in the early development of the embryo. It limits the capacity of the skull to grow and, because the brain continues to grow at a normal pace, the pressure within the skull builds up. Sometimes this can be relieved by operation but there is always some danger of brain damage and blindness. It is most unlikely that this deformity would occur twice in one family.

"Sometimes It's Hard to Tell Which One's the Enemy!"

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing this letter on my honeymoon. Ev and I were married yesterday afternoon. We checked into this motel after a beautiful church wedding. Ev looked around the room for the TV. He didn't see one so he went out to the room clerk and asked where the TV was.

The clerk told him many of the TV sets were being repaired and he was sorry there was a shortage.

Ev said, "You advertise a TV set in every room and I want one." The room clerk replied, "I figured honeymooners would miss TV less than other folks but maybe I was wrong in your case."

Ev reached over to hit him and one of the bellboys pulled Ev off. I pleaded with Ev to come to the room so I could talk to him. He said, "No, I am going to sit in the lobby until I get that TV set." Ann, he sat there until 3:30 a.m. and I cried all night.

This morning Ev started in with the room clerk again and I am writing this letter because I don't know what to do or where to turn. Please wire your advice. — UNTOUCHED BRIDE.

Dear Bride: As I said in my telegram, if Ev is still sitting in the lobby when this message arrives, take a train, plane or bus — and go home. The groom needs professional help. He used the TV as an excuse to avoid the role of a husband.

If Ev refuses to get the help he needs, speak to your clergyman and a lawyer about an annulment.

Dear Ann Landers: I am still in deep mourning but I must write this letter. Perhaps I can spare some other wife the grief I am now suffering.

George and I were married 32 years. We had a good life together, we produced fine children and we were given lovely grandchildren. George owned a successful business and made good investments. He paid all the bills and gave me a cash allowance every two weeks. If I needed more money he gave it to me. George never talked to me about finances and I never asked him any questions.

Two weeks ago George had a cerebral hemorrhage in his office. He was unconscious when they brought him to the hospital. He died three days later.

George's lawyer is a stranger to me. I must take his word for everything. George's will was 10 years old. For a smart man he left things in a terrible mess. He had stocks and bonds in vaults out of town, according to his former business partner, and now we are trying to find them.

So I'd like to say to you women, don't let your husband "protect" you

FREEDOM IS HIS FLIGHT PLAN

One to Ninety

(The Telegraph) presents the first of 20 installments of a condensation of another best-selling book, BARRY GOLDWATER: FREEDOM IS HIS FLIGHT PLAN by Steven Shadegg. In this series is chronicled the rise of Barry Goldwater as a political giant in our times. Here will be shown the background, beliefs and calibre of the man who rose from obscurity to his present eminence as the conservative spokesman of the Republican party. In this first installment we see the results of his lonely stand against a labor bill he considered weak and incomplete.

By STEPHEN SHADDEG ONE TO NINETY

The 1960 Republican Convention was for the most part a dull, listless affair—until the name of Barry Goldwater was presented.

Those in the hall recognized they were witnessing something entirely out of character for the practical politicians of the GOP—a wild enthusiasm for a possible presidential candidate who had never been considered by the party rulers.

In 1960, not many of the nation's registered Republicans had ever heard of Barry Goldwater. His name had been placed in nomination by the governor of his native state. The party hierarchy was solidly committed to Richard Nixon.

In all the history of this republic, it is difficult to find a comparable figure. In midsummer 1952, the odds against Barry Goldwater getting a Senate seat were about five to one. Since 1912, when Arizona was admitted to the union, only one Republican had been elected, and that was during the Harding landslide of 1920.

But Goldwater, who had given no thought to a political career until age 43, grabbed this prize gold ring the first time he stepped on the political merry-go-round.

His opinions are sought by members with double his years of service; 700,000 persons have bought his primer on political philosophy, "The Conscience of a Conservative." Members of the liberal press are dedicated to his destruction, and yet their grand viziers concede that Goldwater followers are a force which may well represent the strength of the Republican party.

The Goldwater name was distinguished throughout the State of Arizona, associated with its pioneer mercantile establishments. Barry Goldwater had served with distinction in World War II as a pre-Pearl Harbor volunteer. He was an acknowledged expert on matters pertaining to the division of Colorado River water, important to this water-short state. His two terms on the Phoenix City Council were remembered with gratitude.

A valuable insight into Goldwater's character can be gained by studying him in action in the political arena. The date was Wednesday, April 15, 1959—seven years after he had challenged apparently insurmountable odds to win his Senate seat.

The Junior Senator was now at his desk on the Republican side of the aisle. His face was tanned and healthy; behind his horn-rimmed glasses there was a hint of weariness around the corners of his eyes.

In seven years he had come to know the body of men before him. The illusions he had brought to Washington had been shattered by the grubby realities of practical politics. But this morning the faces of the witnesses before the McClellan Committee were much more of a reality than the routine business of the Senate.

Every man in that chamber knew the brutal abuses practiced by a handful of labor tyrants. Union members had written begging the right to criticize union affairs without risking death.

Goldwater looked around. He noted that John F. Kennedy and his brother, Bobby, who were there, had been able to stop any real searching into the activities of their friend Walter Reuther and his United Automobile Workers Union. The shadow of Jack Kennedy's ambition to be President had blocked the efforts of the minority members of the Committee to examine carefully the brutal strike record of the U.A.W.

Finally, after disposing of much routine, the Senate reached consideration of Bill 1555, the Kennedy-Ervin Bill: "A bill to provide for the reporting and disclosure of certain financial transactions . . . to prevent abuses in the administration of trusteeships by labor organizations."

The action in the Tonkin Gulf is very revealing. Oriental PT boats felt free to attack an American warship on the high seas. Yet so far down have we fallen and so thoroughly has Washington conditioned the American people to its supine performances that President Johnson gains eulogies and national acclaim, as if he's made a "bold decision" by giving an order to retaliate!

On the day the Kennedy-Johnson Administration took over, our national debt was $285 billion. Mr. Kennedy boosted it three times and Mr. Johnson boosted it again. And, hey, that's our money! Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon sweetens the election kitty by mouthing about red-ink deficits from beginning to end and our debt at an all-time high. Yet Mr. Dillon is supposed to be the watchdog of our money bags and President Johnson himself triumphs in an image of economy.

Simultaneously, the President embarks on a so-called war on poverty, using practically the same words and measures FDR's Administration employed many years ago—and many billions—ago, as if made-work at the taxpayers' expense was new or had succeeded.

Racial tensions and public disorder reduced? They've never been so widespread, tragic and severe since the Civil War.

"Let us continue" was the slogan in the Atlantic City convention hall. Go forward to what? To even greater successes at home and abroad? Success in what and where?

Voltaire said, "He who thinks makes others think." The Administration's opposition may fail in this duty. Apathy and manipulated news may do the rest. But if a government can still rule after a record like that, then all education is in vain and our days as the world's leading power can be numbered.

"If you're ready for the better things in life, you're ready for electric heat"

(and the rates are down 50% since 1958!)

That's Bob Appel talking. His RCA Associates, Inc., have built more than 600 homes in the North Aurora area.

Like an ever-growing number of his friends in the building trades, Bob Appel believes that electric heat is today's great home improvement.

And, if you are ready for the better things in life, no other heating system at any price comes close to giving you all the benefits of electric heat.

It's clean, safe, the most comfortable heat by a wide margin. Separate thermostats let you control the heat in every room. And because electric heat burns no fuel, there's nothing to create dirt, dust, and fumes. Walls, ceilings, curtains, and furniture stay clean longer. And there's little or no maintenance.

Besides—what else can you think of that costs 50% less today than it did in 1958?

Ayres Favored: Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. (P) — Diminutive Ayres is an overwhelming favorite in a field of nine colts named for Wednesday's 39th edition of the Hambletonian, premier trotting race for 3-year-olds.

Ayres, a hot-rod son of the great Star's Pride, is so good that trainers of many would-be candidates were discouraged from posting a final $1,500 to enter.

As the result, the field is the smallest since nine went to the post in 1941. It is the first all-male lineup since 1950.

The blue ribbon event will be worth $115,281, seventh largest purse in its history, with a winner's share of $56,487.

Defense, Little Depth Big Obstacles for Coach Vail

By JIM BLUBAUGH
Telegraph Sports Editor

With a tough eight-game schedule lined up for this season, Dixon High School Head Football Coach Chuck Vail is not only hoping for an improved season, but for a North Central Illinois Conference football crown, the first for Dixon in many years.

Vail realizes the road ahead is a tough one, not only because of the tough schedule, but because only nine lettermen return, few of them in the line.

The coach's primary reason for believing that his goals may be attainable lies in the fact that this year's team will be stronger physically, with a powerful and fast backfield.

Vail feels that the squad will have good backfield speed, a larger, faster line, despite being inexperienced, with defense and a lack of depth being two of his major problems.

One hundred and sixty players, including varsity, sophomore, and freshmen candidates reported during first few days of practice.

Of the candidates, 49 are juniors and seniors, 48 sophomores, and 63 freshmen. Two workouts daily have been scheduled by the football coaching staff.

The nine returning lettermen are: Gary Smith and Randy Wallick, co-captains; Al Fane, Larry Hartzell, Greg Kelchner, Bob Shomaker, Chris Blackburn, Rich Wallick, and Kent Dennis.

The Dukes start their season with a home game against Freeport on Sept. 18, then take on Rochelle away, Sept. 25.

Streator invades Dixon on Oct. 2, for the first conference contest, with Dixon then moving to Ottawa on Oct. 9, also for a conference battle.

Sterling is here (conference), Oct. 16, with Vail's crew travelling to LaSalle-Peru for a NCIC tilt, Oct.

23. The last conference game is against Kewanee at Dixon, and the last game is at Rock Falls on Nov. 6.

Varsity candidates are:

Del Ashford, Gerald Miller, David Huffman, Tom Lawless, Bill Buzard, Brad Weigle, Kent Dennis, Dave Baux, Marty McCaffrey, John Sullivan, Don Shehorn, Steve McCoy.

Rich Hoff, Chris Blackburn, Terry Bennett, Joe Le Blanc, Dan Stoldt, Terry Huene, Al Hardersen, Rich Walker, Dave Dixon, Steve Sproul, Glenn Wallin, Dick Barnhart, Curt Le Blanc, Stan Lewis, Dick Sanford.

Pirates' Victory Trims Phils' Lead

By The Associated Press

Richie Allen may boot Rico Carty or Jim Hart right into the Rookie of the Year award in the National League.

Allen, Philadelphia's offensive spark, continued his less than red-hot defensive performance Sunday, committing two costly errors in the league leader's 10-2 loss to Pittsburgh.

Carty and Hart, meanwhile, exchanged lousy batting displays as San Francisco won the first game of a doubleheader 13-10 and Milwaukee the second 7-4.

Carty belted five hits, including his 16th homer, in five at-bats in the nightcap after slamming a homer in three trips in the first game. Hart went 3-for-6 in the doubleheader, hitting a homer in each game and driving in six runs.

Allen's errors increased his season total to 33, a rare height even for an entire season. Allen has done it in 129 games, giving him 3 more games in which to surpass the most miscues made by a National League third baseman in 25 years.

That figure is 41, achieved by Sissy Sisti of the Boston Braves in 1941.

Of course, the 22-year-old Allen has been Philadelphia's most potent batting threat, compiling a .312 average with 24 homers and 73 runs batted in. But some of his bobbles — he has made 27 in the last 64 games — have been costly.

Sunday, for example. With the bases loaded and one out in the second inning, Bob Bailey grounded to third. The ball bounced off Allen's knee, and two runs came across. Gene Alley went to third on the play and scored on Manny Mota's bunt single.

Then with two out the next inning, Allen fielded Bob Veale's grounder flawlessly and threw high to first, permitting Donn Clendenon to score from second. Bailey then singled in another unearned run.

Only eight days before, an Allen error led to five unearned runs and a 9-4 Pirate victory.

In other NL games Sunday, Cincinnati nipped Houston 7-6 after losing 8-5, St. Louis whipped Los Angeles 5-1 and Chicago knocked off New York 7-3.

The Phillies' loss cut their league lead to 5½ games over the second-place Reds. Veale, 14-10, struck out seven Philadelphia batters, bringing his season total to 188, a Pirate record.

Church Play Is Tonight

Church League tournament action tonight, at Reynolds Field, will see Methodist and Assembly of God tangling in the first game, and St. Paul's taking on Alliance in the second.

The winner of the first game meets St. Paul's in the only Tuesday night action. Then on Thursday night, the winner of that tilt takes on the winner of the St. Paul's Alliance contest for the championship.

White Sox Take Orioles, 3 to 0

By The Associated Press

Moose Skowron's first homer in six weeks has put the cap on the 24-day period in which the three leading American League pennant contenders finished firing against each other and left unanswered only one small question:

Who's going to win the American League pennant?

Skowron, who has a chance to play in his third consecutive World Series with as many teams, slammed a fifth inning homer Sunday that broke up a scoreless battle and started the Chicago White Sox on the way to a 3-0 victory over first-place Baltimore.

That lifted Skowron's average to .308 since he was acquired from Washington this season after pennant-winning years with the New York Yankees in 1962 and Los Angeles Dodgers last year. It also lifted the White Sox to within one-half game of the front-running Orioles at the end of the contenders' round robin.

The Orioles, who started the 24-day stretch on Aug. 7 in second place by four percentage points, compiled a 9-6 record against Chicago and New York during that period and took over the league lead. The White Sox were 9-7 against the other two, moving up after being third, 1½ out.

The biggest losers were the New York Yankees, who started the swing against Baltimore and Chicago in first place, lost 10 of 15 to the other leaders and fell to third place. The Yankees are three games off the pace after wallowing Boston 9-3.

As for the remainder of the schedule, none of the leaders seems to have an advantage. Here's the way it looks:

Baltimore — At home, 16 — Kansas City 5, Minnesota 3, Los Angeles 3, Washington 3, Detroit 2, Away, 15 — Minnesota 3, Los Angeles 3, Kansas City 2, Washington 2, Detroit 2, Cleveland 3.

Chicago — At home, 14 — Detroit 2, Cleveland 4, Washington 3, Los Angeles 1, Kansas City 4, Away, 14 — Washington 2, Minnesota 2, Cleveland 3, Detroit 2, Los Angeles 2, Kansas City 3.

New York — At home, 16 — Minnesota 3, Los Angeles 3, Kansas City 3, Detroit 4, Cleveland 3, Away, 17 — Los Angeles 3, Kansas City 3, Minnesota 2, Detroit 2, Cleveland 4, Washington 3.

In other AL games Sunday, Tony Oliva's 28th homer brought Minnesota a 5-4 victory over Washington. Ken McBride won his first game in 2½ months as the Los Angeles Angels edged Detroit 5-4 and Kansas City ended Cleveland's eight-game winning streak with a 9-3 victory before the Indians won the second game 6-5.

Skowron smashed a 390-foot shot off Robin Roberts for his first homer since July 16. Ward took care of the other runs, driving in one with a triple in the ninth inning and then scoring on a wild pitch.

Joel Horlen nursed the 1-0 lead into the eighth inning, then departed for a pinch hitter. Gary Peters, making his first relief appearance for Chicago, took over in the eighth but left with two out and a man on second. Hoyt Wilhelm struck out Brooks Robinson to end the threat, then set the Orioles down quietly in the ninth.

Horlen, who checked the Orioles on four hits before leaving, did not allow a runner past second and brought his record to 10-8. Roberts is 11-6.

The Yankees got the job done early against the Red Sox, scoring two runs in the first on a double by Phil Linz, Pedro Gonzales' triple and an error, then adding three runs in the fourth on consecutive homers by Johnny Blanchard and Hector Lopez.

The Yankees' Mickey Mantle, meanwhile, broke Babe Ruth's major league strikeout record when Bob Heffner fanned him in the fourth inning before Blanchard and Lopez connected. The strikeout was No. 1,331 of Mantle's 14-year career.

Oliva's homer in the eighth inning snapped a 4-4 tie and ended a see-saw homer battle. Don Mincher

This small area of surface friction between wheel and rail makes railroad transportation fundamentally economical. Nothing can beat it. Except more efficient railroading.

You'll see many new and larger freight cars rolling on the Illinois Central this year. And each wheel will roll easily on a spot smaller than a penny. Which is nearly all we collect ($0.0114), on the average, to haul a ton of freight one mile.

All-Stars Drop Old-Timers In Sunday Slugfest, 13-2

The Dixon City League youthful stars knocked off the league's Old-time Stars Sunday night at Reynolds Field, 13-2.

Until the younger stars could wear down the oldtimers, the game was a full fledged battle with the All-stars only able to score two runs in the second inning on a single by Kay Draper. However, the All-stars broke the game wide open with nine runs in the fifth inning on hits by Peanie Bruce, Barry Royster, Cecil Parks, Chico Contreras, and Denny Steele. The All-stars added insult to injury with four more runs in the sixth inning.

In the last of the seventh the Oldtimers picked up their two runs on singles by Merle Snodgrass and Tom Love.

Al Paisley, Peanie Bruce, and Cecil Parke had two hits apiece to pace the All-stars.

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — Golf's new breed, personified by young Bobby Nichols, is threatening to create a runnerup complex for Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Arnie and Big Jack had to be content with secondary paychecks again Sunday when Nichols, 28-year-old PGA champion, walked off with the game's biggest tournament haul of the year, the $35,000 first prize in the $200,000 Carling World Golf Championship.

Palmer finished second one stroke behind Nichols' winning 278 for four rounds over the tough Oakland Hills course.

It was the fifth time in the last seven tournaments that Palmer, the defending money-making champion, had come in second. In the other two tournaments, he was third.

"I'm getting darned tired of it," Palmer said. "I hope it doesn't become a habit."

Nicklaus, who hasn't won a major championship this year, fell farther behind. He tied for 11th and 286 and collected $2,800.

It was the first time in the last two months that he hadn't placed at least in the top six.

Since the Masters, which Palmer won, the Big Two have captured only three tournaments between them.

The $35,000 prize boosted Nichols into the top five of the money winners with $72,087.26. Palmer went to the head of the list, which he has led the last two years, with $110,743.37.

Gary Player of South Africa won third money with a 72 for 281. Fourth was shared by the great Ben Hogan and Pete Brown, a Negro from Los Angeles, at 282. Hogan shot a final 68 and Brown a 69.

Hogan, 52, proved he still is the game's master shotmaker who, if he could putt better, might again dominate the game. Brown achieved a major breakthrough for his race, which has been less successful in golf than in other sports.

Leaders and money winners in the Carling World Golf Championship include:

Bobby Nichols, $35,000, 278
Arnold Palmer, $17,000, 279
Gary Player, $8,500, 281
Ben Hogan, $6,850, 282
Pete Brown, $6,850, 282
Bruce Devlin, $5,500, 283
Terry Dill, $5,500, 283
Jay Hebert, $4,033, 285
Gene Littler, $4,033, 285
Bill Casper, $4,033, 285
Raymond Floyd, $2,800, 286
Julius Boros, $2,800, 286
Jack Nicklaus, $2,800, 286

Ten race is defending champion and Rose Bowl winner Illinois whose coach Pete Elliott welcomes 64 players, including among 22 lettermen such standouts as All-America line-backer Dick Butkus and Rose Bowl standout, fullback Jim Grabowski.

Biggest Illini problem centers in replacing graduated defensive backs Jim Warren and Mike Dundy.

Ohio State, under the dean of conference coaches—Woody Hayes, starting his 14th season—figures to be tough as usual, but Michigan is regarded possibly the strongest challenger to Illinois. The Buckeyes list 22 lettermen on a 66-man squad.

If Michigan's Wolverines, with 22 lettermen available on a reporting squad of 90, generate well behind a fine quarterback in Bob Timberlake, the Big Ten will be treated to a brotherly coaching battle for the title.

Chalmers Bump Elliott is starting his sixth Michigan season, while brother Pete begins his fifth at Illinois.

Whispers persist that Indiana, powered by one of the nation's most explosive fullbacks in Tom Nowatzke, could be the sleeper of the Big Ten race. Long suffering Phil Dickens launches his seventh Hoosier season with no fewer than 94 candidates, spiced by 23 lettermen.

Other manpower thumbnails: Michigan State, 79 reporting including 22 lettermen, but no typically swift Spartan backs.

Iowa, 79 candidates and 18 lettermen, searching good targets for sharpshooting quarterback Gary Snook.

Minnesota, 75 players and 18 lettermen, facing a "rebuilding year."

Northwestern, 74 men and 19 lettermen with Tommy gun Myers a constant bombing threat.

Purdue, 83 candidates and 23 lettermen with a sophomore, Bob Griese, under the gun at quarterback.

Wisconsin, 71 players and 17 lettermen, still waiting for quarterback Hal Brandt to catch fire.

Notre Dame, 89 players and 18 lettermen, banking on a new Ara of Irish football.

BATTING — Moose Skowron, White Sox, broke up a scoreless battle in the fifth inning with his first homer in six weeks, starting Chicago on the way to a 3-0 victory over Baltimore that pulled the White Sox to within one-half game of the American League leading Orioles.

PITCHING — Curt Simmons, Cardinals, won his 14th game, allowing Los Angeles only four hits as St. Louis whipped the Dodgers 8-1.

Woods Look Impressive

New York's professional football teams aren't out of the Woods yet — and they won't be for some time if Giants coach Allie Sherman and Jets pilot Weeb Ewbank have their way.

The Woods, 5-foot-11 Gary of the Giants and 6-foot-5 Dick of the Jets, quarterbacked their clubs to impressive victories Saturday as the National and American Football Leagues moved through another weekend of exhibitions prior to mid-September season openers.

Gary Wood, filling in for hobbled Y. A. Tittle, threw three touchdown passes as the Giants trimmed Philadelphia 28-17 at Princeton, N.J., for their first NFL pre-season success in four starts. Dick Wood also fired three scoring strikes in the Jets' 34-6 rout of AFL champion San Diego at Atlanta.

A Dallas crowd of 60,057 — the largest since the Chicago All-Star game early in the month — watched the Cowboys take a 35-3 beating from Green Bay while Pittsburgh edged San Francisco 16-14 and unbeaten Minnesota outscored Los Angeles 34-23 in other NFL games.

Oakland took an AFL decision from Houston 34-20 in the first pre-game ever played at Las Vegas.

Gary Wood, a 22-year-old rookie from Cornell whom Sherman retained while releasing Glynn Griffing, Tittle's 1963 sub, when the Giants trimmed their roster last week, replaced the veteran pass-master early in the second period Saturday.

Tittle threw a scoring pass to Dick James before twisting his left knee, the same one he hurt in last December's NFL title game. This time, the injury appeared to be slight while affording Wood a chance to impress the coach as a ready and able reliever.

The Ivy Leaguer completed 11 of 24 passes for 193 yards.

Dick Wood, 28-year-old former Charger, wrecked his old club with two payoff passes to Don Maynard and another to Bake Turner that covered 54 yards. The big Auburn grad hit on 12 of 28 tosses for 152 yards. Jim Turner added two field goals as the Jets ran their exhibition slate to 3-1.

The Battleground: 8 Midwest States

By BRUCE BISSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A high-ranking Democrat who puzzled over the matter for weeks finally has decided that the eight-state Middle West is the critical combat area in the 1964 presidential race.

Goldwater forces agree with this judgment in part, since they have said the Republican nominee needs Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin as prime building stones toward a Nov. 3 victory.

The top Democrat, one of President Johnson's good friends, puts the other four midwestern states — Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri — in the same crucial category.

Together, the eight comprise 129 of the 270 electoral votes required for election.

Samplings among Democrats at the convention and earlier among leading Republican and independent sources, produce this first reading of candidate prospects in the critical zone.

OHIO (26 VOTES). Goldwater appears to have the lead. The state supplied Republican Richard Nixon with his greatest big-state margin — 273,000 votes in 1960.

The GOP is even stronger today, holding the statehouse under Gov. James Rhodes, plus a heavy majority of elective offices at all levels. Rep. Robert Taft, bidding for U.S. Sen. Stephen Young's seat, may have some lift value for Goldwater.

Ohio Democrats still lack effective leadership and quarrel among themselves, though an administration man says: "They're not mad at Lyndon." In Cleveland, always basic to Democratic hopes, organizational weakness is most pronounced. White backlash seems a real threat. No big flow of Ohio Republicans to Johnson is yet observed.

ILLINOIS (26 VOTES). A trustworthy appraiser gives Johnson a present edge. Republicans in Chicago's suburbs are reported drifting to Johnson. A poor voter turnout in Republican "downstate" is feared. Yet Goldwater has a huge, ardent Illinois following whose leaders know the vital necessity of his taking the state. They have money.

Goldwater could gain, too, if Chicago's "ethnic Democrats," aroused over Negro stirrings, move to his side in force. And Democratic Mayor Richard Daley's fabled organization was not sharp in its most recent trial a year ago.

MICHIGAN (21 VOTES). Consensus of experts in both parties gives it to Johnson today, by varying margins up to large. Fresh polls are lacking.

Goldwater's managers do not claim Michigan. Moderate-leaning Gov. George Romney, running again, damps down the Goldwater drive with his studied coolness. Democrats, their 1963 rift healed, are organized to the hilt.

INDIANA (13 VOTES). Best judgment is Goldwater ahead. The state has gone Democratic in only three presidential battles since 1900—and not since 1936. Nixon won it in 1960 by more than 200,000. Backlash could hurt Johnson in industrial Gary, won by Alabama's Gov. George Wallace in last spring's primary. But a pre-primary Johnson visit to job-hungry South Bend curbed a similar switch there. Democrats now want the President to speak in Gary this fall.

WISCONSIN (12 VOTES). Goldwater has party history on his side. Last Democrat to win was Harry Truman in his 1948 upset. Nixon's margin over the late John F. Kennedy was around 60,000. Backlash in Milwaukee, however, appears overrated despite potent Wallace showing last April. And some private statewide polls show Johnson out front 60 to 40.

MISSOURI (12 VOTES). A narrow squeak for Kennedy four years ago, but now placed in Johnson's camp by margins up to 100,000 or more.

Goldwater forces never have claimed the state, despite its conservative leanings. Democratic tradition is strong.

MINNESOTA (21 VOTES). Divided Republican forces help Johnson to a present lead. But the state is a mixture, and Kennedy won it by a mere 20,000. Democrats exhibit more confidence than the GOP.

IOWA (9 VOTES). Again, history rides with Goldwater. Truman was the last Democratic winner. Nixon won in 1960 by 175,000. But here, too, Republicans are split. Iowa's many oldsters worry over Goldwater's social security views. Some Republicans talk of defecting. The outcome could be extremely close.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Archeologists have turned up what they consider evidence that the Vikings beat Christopher Columbus to the New World by about 500 years.

A tiny stone wheel, found in a Newfoundland wilderness, was hailed as a clue to a Viking settlement in North America nearly 1,000 years ago. The wheel was identified as part of a wool-spinning device and the first Viking household article found on the continent.

Dr. Melville Bell Grosvenor, president and editor of the National Geographic Society, said the discovery suggests that the Vikings brought their wives to do household work in an unsuccessful attempt to establish a permanent settlement.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States plans to launch late this week its largest scientific satellite, designated OGO-A, for orbiting geophysical observatory.

Carrying 20 scientific experiments contributed by government laboratories and universities, the satellite will be aimed into an orbit looping from 170 miles above the earth out to 92,000 miles.

It will gather data on the atmosphere, the magnetosphere and interplanetary space beyond reach of the earth's magnetic field.
